CANTON CHAIR RENTAL HOME EDITION

A Special Wedding in East Liverpool

A beautiful wedding just doesn't happen – long hours of research and planning are required for the perfect event to materialize. When it came time for Jim and Bonnie Hopple of East Liverpool to plan the wedding of their daughter, Kara, they knew they had their work cut out for them. Fortunately, Mrs. Hopple is a creative woman who knows what she wants, and after two years of planning, she produced the type of wedding every girl dreams of.

The bride wanted a home reception and her parent's beautifully landscaped five acre yard was the perfect setting. In her research Mrs. Hopple had seen the Century pole tent on the internet and knew this is what she wanted for her daughter's reception. It was also on the internet where she discovered Canton Chair Rental. Soon she and the event consultants at Canton Chair Rental were working on the details of the reception that would grow to eventually include a 60' x 80' Century pole tent, a 30' x 30' food tent, a 20' x 20' beverage tent, two connector marquees plus entrance and exit tents.

Mrs. Hopple said everyone at Canton Chair Rental was marvelous to work with. She was pleased they listened to her ideas and delivered what she envisioned. She was delighted they were willing to do things they are not normally requested to do such as hanging flower baskets from the lighting brackets and draping the tent poles with fabric. They were helpful offering suggestions as to when to use cathedral sides to let light in and when to use solid sides to hide the food prep areas, generators and restrooms.

Mrs. Hopple can be credited for raising the elegant aura of the reception with many special details that included silver charger plates, embroidered chair shawls, organza table overlays, and decorative lamp posts.

When it was over Mrs. Hopple felt that Canton Chair Rental, and the all vendors that were involved with the reception contributed to a wedding that the bride and groom will remember for an entire lifetime.

HALLOWEEN A GREAT TIME TO PARTY!

Halloween has become a five billion dollar a year industry in the United States according to the National Retail Federation and it's not just about trick-or-treating anymore. Over the past decade adult Halloween parties have become enormously popular as the holiday becomes more sophisticated. Consumers now view Halloween as a seasonal celebration to bridge the gap between the end of summer and the winter holidays.

Invariably, the most successful Halloween parties are costumed affairs. Scott Costume, a division of Canton Chair Rental, has been taking Halloween orders since July of this year and the staff is expecting a busier than normal season this year. Pirate costumes are again in high demand due in part to the success of the Pirates of the Caribbean movie series. Spiderman and Harry Potter outfits are popular as are elegant Renaissance gowns and tunics for couples who want to dress in coordinated apparel. New at Scott's this year are a series of "tastefully alluring" costumes for women that are cut a little trimmer, a little lower and a little shorter, but are still considered in good taste.

Relieve the Holiday Stress by Planning Ahead

Now that the leaves have started to change and the days are growing shorter, there's an air of anticipation for the holidays ahead. The holidays are a time to celebrate and enjoy the company of loved ones. It's not a time to be washing dishes and ironing table linens. Canton Chair Rental is ready to help you during the busy times ahead. They can provide the additional tables and chairs you are going to need, along with beautiful linens and attractive place settings. They have highchairs and roll away beds for visiting guests and a multitude of convenient items that can make your holiday entertaining easier than ever.

Now is the time to visit the Canton Chair Rental showroom or their website: www.cantonchairrental.com to start planning for the big days ahead!

To make your holiday entertaining less stressful here are a few ideas to consider:

- Plan in advance for what you will need over the holidays. Make extra large batches of items that can be made ahead and frozen. Take inventory of your trays and platters, serving pieces and glassware. If you need to rent items for your party, place your order early to avoid last minute disappointments.

- If your oven is too small to handle all of the dishes you want to serve consider renting portable roasters. Canton Chair Rental's electric roasters have removable cookwells and automatic temperature controls that allow you to cook any number of dishes including a whole ham or turkey, vegetables, soups, stews and pasta dishes.

- Consider setting up several small serving areas to encourage guests to mingle. A coffee station set up with desserts and a beautiful coffee urn on a skirted table can provide a favorite spot for guests to gather.

- There is never enough room in the refrigerator for all of the dishes and beverages you need to keep cold. The versatile Fill and Chill table will hold 75 pounds of ice plus food containers and canned or bottled beverages. The skirted chill table is also attractive enough to serve as a cold buffet for salads and seafood.

- To save on preparation time, set your table the night before your dinner party. If you don't have enough matching chairs for all your guests consider renting folding chairs and covering them with elegant chair shawls or chair covers tied with colorful sashes.

- Background music can add a wonderful atmosphere to a party. The Quebbie™ "DJ in a Box" can provide everything from lively dance music to traditional holiday favorites and the best part is you just set it and forget it – the Quebbie will do the rest.

An Easy Holiday Centerpiece

Instead of using fresh flowers to decorate for the holidays convey a sense of bounty and hospitality on the dining table with a bowl of red apples, pears and pomegranates. You can add additional glamour with a light dusting of gold metallic or glitter spray paint. Let the fruit dry and then assemble in a bowl or on a platter with greens and pine cones.
