CANTON CHAIR RENTAL HOME EDITION

Celebrate a New Season

The chill winds may still be blowing outside but the time to start arranging your spring and summer entertaining is now. Whether you're planning a wedding, graduation, casual or formal party – you can never start the planning process too early. If the prospect of organizing an event may seem daunting – don't worry. The event planners at Canton Chair Rental have the first quality rental equipment and the expertise to make staging your event a rewarding experience.

Planning a Party for Your Favorite Grad

Graduating from any grade is an exciting event so it's only fitting to cap off the school year with a celebration. As parents you want to give your graduate a party they will long remember, but the planning and logistics involved can be overwhelming.

Once you have your date set and your guest list compiled you may find your house isn't large enough to comfortably accommodate everyone. That's where Canton Chair Rental comes to the rescue. With tents and canopies in a wide variety of shapes and sizes they can set up the perfect party venue outdoors that will provide space for everyone and create that special atmosphere that only an outdoor party can provide.

Canton Chair Rental is now offering convenient Graduation Packages that include a tent or canopy, tables and chairs and optional table covers. Whether you're inviting a few dozen friends to your party or over a hundred, Canton Chair Rental has the perfect tent for the occasion.

All in the Family

If you're planning a birthday party for a child in your family add some excitement to the affair with a cuddly character costume from Scott's.

Scott Costume, a division of Canton Chair Rental, has a family of lovable character costumes that will delight children of all ages. From cartoon characters to super heroes, from pirates to fairy princesses - a charming costume from Scott's will add a new dimension to the children's party you're planning.

And remember, for your child's party, Canton Chair Rental can provide attractive tables and chairs sized just for little ones, along with colorful table covers, balloons and helium, lawn games, popcorn, cotton candy and sno-cone machines, and the ultimate thrill for a child's party – the big, bold and colorful inflatable bounce castle!

Outdoor Entertaining Tips

The advent of warm nights and long, hot days means it's time to move the party outside. Whether you're just grilling in the backyard for the family or hosting an elegant event for a formal crowd, these tips will ensure your summer gatherings are unforgettable!

- Plastic plates and tumblers are ideal for casual parties, but if you want to make an outdoor dinner truly special rent the real thing. China and glass stemware used outdoors is unexpected and makes your guests feel pampered.
- Transform your yard into a twilight paradise with the right lighting. Masses of votive lights clustered together or glass hurricane lamps on the tables will provide a soft glow to the festivities. Hanging strings of Christmas lights or delicate paper lanterns will further enhance an outdoor evening gathering.

- Always be prepared for changes in the weather. If your property cannot accommodate a tent or canopy, Canton Chair Rental can convert a garage or storage room into an attractive party area with its unique pipe and drape system. Fine quality fabric panels on sturdy concealed piping can cover walls, shelving and equipment you might want hidden from view.
- Keep beverages properly chilled with plenty of coolers and ice chests. If you don't want your guests reaching down into coolers, consider Canton Chair Rental's Fill and Chill table. Bottles and cans, along with salads and desserts can be presented on this attractive skirted ice table.

- Add ambience to your event with soothing background music, lively dance music, or both with the Quebbie "DJ in a box" music system. With the Quebbie you can program all the music you want for your event and then just forget it – the Quebbie will do the rest.

Grilling Safety Tips

The aroma and flavor of food cooked on the grill is always a party pleaser. Today everything from savory meat and fish dishes to delectable fruits and vegetables are being prepared on grills. Here are a few practical tips to keep in mind when planning a barbeque:

- Place the grill on a level solid surface, away from fences, shrubs and overhangs.
- Grill in a well ventilated area.
- When cooking on a grill wear long barbeque mitts to protect hands and arms.
- Never add lighter fluid to lit coals. Never use gasoline or kerosene to light briquettes.
- To prevent flare-ups trim excess fat from steaks, chops and chicken.
- Use two sets of cutting boards and utensils – one for raw food and one for cooked items.
- Always place cooked food on a clean plate – never on a plate that held raw food.
- Never baste with liquid that meat was marinated in. Reserve a portion for basting before adding the meat. Discard the marinade after the meat goes on the grill.
- Never discard ashes until they are completely cold.

If you are planning a cook-out this summer, remember, Canton Chair Rental can deliver propane or charcoal grills to your door along with a whole range of party equipment that will make your job a whole lot easier and give you more time to spend with your guests.

Shall We Dance?

Music always adds an extra dimension to an event. Whether it's for a private party, fashion show, corporate function or wedding – a music playlist customized just for your occasion will make a lasting impression on your guests. A professional DJ can provide music and more for your event, but there are a number of things you need to consider when shopping for a DJ service.

Two of the area's premier disc jockeys – Jake Matthews of Dance the Night Away and Bill Manos of Sound Waves offer expert advice when looking for a DJ. Both stress booking with one who is willing to spend some time with you in person. Select a DJ you feel comfortable with and makes you feel at ease. Look for a DJ who has been strongly recommended by a close friend or whom you have seen yourself. At a minimum, request references before signing a contract.

Be sure to review their music list and make sure they know exactly what genre of music and specific songs you want to hear. You want a DJ that is flexible and willing to cater to your personal taste. If you want to hear the Chicken Dance and he wants to play Montovani, or vice versa – keep looking.

A qualified DJ does more than just play music; they direct the course of the evening's activities for you, set the tone of the event and provide a fun atmosphere. Make sure your DJ knows in advance exactly what you want and who the audience will be.

A good DJ will incorporate state of the art equipment and be up on modern trends and technology. At the recent wedding of Tim and Angela Maloney, the couple did their research on the internet before setting up DJ appointments. Their DJ's entire music library was digital. Thus, all the songs they wanted for their reception were a few mouse clicks away on a laptop computer, which was connected to a sound system. The DJ later presented the couple with a playlist containing all of the music from their reception. They then cut a CD by purchasing individual songs to have a memento of their special evening.

If you are looking for a DIY alternative, consider renting Canton Chair Rental's Quebbie "DJ in a Box" sound system. You won't get the personal touch of a DJ, but if pre-programmed music is all you need, the Quebbie may be right for you.

Everyone wants their event to be perfect. If you do some homework in advance you should be able to sit back, relax and enjoy the celebration with your guests, while a qualified DJ works musical magic.
